

George Thomas Giles

Sarah Daybell Giles

HEBER CITY, Utah.—Mrs. Sarah Daybell Giles, 91, widow of the late George T. Giles, died Friday at the home of her son, J. Fred Giles.

She was born March 11, 1850, in Lincolnshire, England, daughter of Finty and Mary Draper Daybill. When she was 14 years old she came to the United States with her family, coming to Heber City, crossing the plains by ox-team in the William Warren Company, arriving here on Christmas Eve, 1864. She has since lived here excepting two years spent in Charleston.

She was married Jan. 28, 1867, in a small home on the same corner where she died, to Mr. Giles, who died 31 years ago.

Thirteen children were born to them. Six sons survive: William L. Giles of Salt Lake, Richard Giles of Murray, Bert Giles of Mantil, Thomas M. T. J. Fred and Oscar Giles of Heber City. She is also survived by 59 grandchildren, 107 great-grandchildren and 20 great-great-grandchildren, a total of 192 living descendants. One brother, Patriarch William Daybell of Heber City, also survives.

For 28 years Mrs. Giles lived with her two widowed sisters, Elizabeth Giles and Susannah Carlile, both of whom have recently died. For the past two years she has been with her son.

She was an active member of the Church and of the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers.

Services will be held Sunday at 1:30 in the Wasatch Stake Tabernacle, in charge of Bishop Wendell Duke. Interment will be in the Heber Cemetery. Friends may call at the Olpin Brothers Mortuary Saturday and at the J. Fred Giles residence, 189 West First North Saturday evening and Sunday until time of services.

HOW
During most of his life he was a farmer. Brother Giles died May 17, 1910, as a faithful Latter-day Saint, honored and loved by all who knew him. His wife, Sarah, loved to sing and was very good company. She spent the last year of her life at the home of a son, J. Fred Giles. She lived to be 91 years of age, passing away April 11, 1941.

GEORGE THOMAS GILES

George Thomas Giles was born in Lincolnshire, England, April 16, 1846, son of Thomas H. Giles and Elizabeth Moore. He was baptized when eight years old, and emigrated with his parents to America in 1856, settling in Wasatch County, Utah, in 1859.

In 1864 he was sent back to the Missouri River as a Church teamster for emigrants. He participated in the Black Hawk War in 1866. He was ordained a High Priest and set apart as second counselor to Bishop Forman in 1877, holding that position until 1884.

He married Sarah Daybell, daughter of Finity Daybell. She was born in Lincolnshire, England, March 11, 1850. She came to Utah in 1864, in William Warren's train, arriving in Salt Lake City on October 4, 1864. This marriage was blest with 13 children, three being still alive. 365

During most of his life he was a farmer. Brother Giles died May 17, 1910, as a faithful Latter-day Saint, honored and loved by all who knew him. His wife, Sarah, loved to sing and was very good company. She spent the last year of her life at the home of a son, J. Fred Giles. She lived to be 91 years of age, passing away April 11, 1941.

GEORGE THOMAS GILES

George Thomas Giles was born in Lincolnshire, England, April 16, 1846, son of Thomas H. Giles and Elizabeth Moore. He was baptized when eight years old, and emigrated with his parents to America in 1856, settling in Wasatch County, Utah, in 1859.

In 1864 he was sent back to the Missouri River as a Church teamster for emigrants. He participated in the Black Hawk War in 1866. He was ordained a High Priest and set apart as second counselor to Bishop Forman in 1877, holding that position until 1884.

He married Sarah Daybell, daughter of Finity Daybell. She was born in Lincolnshire, England, March 11, 1850. She came to Utah in 1864, in William Warren's train, arriving in Salt Lake City on October 4, 1864. This marriage was blest with 13 children, three being still alive. 365

During most of his life he was a farmer. Brother Giles died May 17, 1910, as a faithful Latter-day Saint, honored and loved by all who knew him. His wife, Sarah, loved to sing and was very good company. She spent the last year of her life at the home of a son, J. Fred Giles. She lived to be 91 years of age, passing away April 11, 1941.

GEORGE THOMAS GILES

George Thomas Giles was born in Lincolnshire, England, April 16, 1846, son of Thomas H. Giles and Elizabeth Moore. He was baptized when eight years old, and emigrated with his parents to America in 1856, settling in Wasatch County, Utah, in 1859.

In 1864 he was sent back to the Missouri River as a Church teamster for emigrants. He participated in the Black Hawk War in 1866. He was ordained a High Priest and set apart as second counselor to Bishop Forman in 1877, holding that position until 1884.

He married Sarah Daybell, daughter of Finity Daybell. She was born in Lincolnshire, England, March 11, 1850. She came to Utah in 1864, in William Warren's train, arriving in Salt Lake City on October 4, 1864. This marriage was blest with 13 children, three being still alive. 365

During most of his life he was a farmer. Brother Giles died May 17, 1910, as a faithful Latter-day Saint, honored and loved by all who knew him. His wife, Sarah, loved to sing and was very good company. She spent the last year of her life at the home of a son, J. Fred Giles. She lived to be 91 years of age, passing away April 11, 1941.

